

REMARKS

In response to the "Information Requirement Under 37 CFR 1.105" of March 19, 2007, Applicants provide the following reply. A reply to each numbered Information Request is provided.

Requirement for Information #1

Attached as Attachment A is a 10-page document, entitled "XSAg.com User Agreement" that was requested. Applicants wish to note that this User Agreement is from 2001. However, Applicants do not believe that it is substantially different from the original 10-page document in 1999, which Applicants have not been able to locate after reasonable inquiry. Attachment B is an earlier version of the User Agreement from August 2000. Again, Applicants do not believe that it is substantially different from the original 10-page document in 1999, which Applicants have not been able to locate after reasonable inquiry.

Requirement for Information #2

Attachment C includes screen shot copies of the Assignee's original website from 1999. These copies were not available internally, after reasonable inquiry. Accordingly, Applicants used an online "Wayback Machine" to recover content from Assignee's 2000 website from a buyer's pages. A user had to be registered and logged into the seller's pages, so that these pages are not available from the Wayback Machine, after reasonable inquiry.

Requirement for Information #3

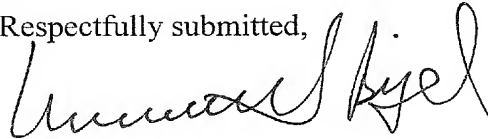

Attachment D is a draft of the XSAg white paper from 1999, prior to its initial publication on the Assignee's initial website. It is entitled "10 Reasons Why and Exchange Floor makes sense for Agriculture Inputs". After reasonable inquiry, Applicants could not find a copy of the paper as initially published.

The above-described information is being provided in reply to the Information Request of March 19, 2007, based on a good faith attempt by the Assignee to obtain the information, and to make a reasonable inquiry once the information was requested. The readily available information that resulted from this good faith attempt is attached.
